

Volunteers Sought for Essential Tremor Technology Pilot

- We are seeking volunteers to provide feedback on the look and feel of new mobile iPhone and iPad technology designed by NewTouch Digital to help patients suffering from Essential Tremor
- We welcome the participation of anyone who suffers from Essential Tremor to take part as a test user and focus group member
- Your total time commitment can be as little as 60 minutes and will provide very valuable input to help us properly build the technology necessary to improve the care of those afflicted with Essential Tremor

About NewTouch Digital

- We are a new health technology firm building easy-to-use technology to connect patients and physicians to improve the treatment and lives of those suffering from Essential Tremor and other degenerative neurological conditions
- Our software tools will allow doctors to better track the symptoms of Essential Tremor in order to improve their care and quality of life
- We were launched in early 2017 after years of extensive clinical observation from neurosurgeons and neurologists at the UVA Health System
- We are based in Washington DC with wide ranging collaboration with the UVA Health System

To Participate

If you would like to volunteer to participate as a test user for NewTouch's technology, you may email or call our test coordinator Chris Cabral to learn more.
